SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

A convention is hereby called to meet at White Plains on Saturday the 2nd day of July 1892, for the purpose of nominating a Senator to represent the Seventh Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Calhoun and Cleburne. In said convention Calhoun will be entitled to 10 delegates; Cleburne 6 delegates.

S. D. G. BROTHERS,

Chairman.

THE CONVENTION.

The County Convention on the 25th, called by the previous convention for the nomination of Representatives was the stormiest convention ever held in Calhoun county. At times the scenes were highly dramatic and exciting. This grew out of the very evident purpose of some gentlemen to gather in Tuesday's Convention the fruits of a former convention and the stern determination on the part of other gentlemen that they should not do so. The latter gentlemen determined to hold the convention to the uses of the Democratic party alone or dissolve it. The great crowd of people from the country and the greater part of the delegates evidently sym-pathized with the purpose of those who were resisting a perversion of the party machinery to local and private interests and there was a wild and exultant shout when the result showed they had been successful and that the convention, ignoring utterly all understandings at a former convention, had consulted alone the interests and welfare of the Democratic party in the county.

The most painful as well as most dramatic incident was the withdrawal from the room of the men who followed the flag of Capt. Kolb. It was palpable beyond expression to see these good men and sturdy Democrats of the days of yore formally taking leave of the party of their fathers and launching their ship on the wild sea of Independentism, to drift politically to unknown waters from which they may never sail back to us again. They parted from us in anger. This might have been averted and we might have parted in peace, as Col. Caldwell eloquently suggested, had Mr. Whiteside's resolution endorsing the State House Convention, its acts, platform and nominations been adopted at the outset. The writer talked to the leaders of the Kolb forces and they were perfectly willing to have such a test instituted and to leave the hall in peace if they could not accept the resolutions. But some of the delegates opposed this sensible disposition of the question and hours were consumed by a credentials committee, where the same test was applied, and they were unseated instead of being permitted to retire quietly and in good humor, as they would have done upon the passage of the Whiteside resolution. The insistence on the procedure which resulted in turning them out rather than permitting them to go out of their and committed against the introduction of any disturbing local issues in the canvass. The people of the county may rest assured that neither of these will put through any local measure against the will of the precincts to be affected by it. With these men in the Legislature the will of the people will be respected in all measures affecting their interests.

Hon. G. C. Williams has represented this county before. He was a faithful, painstaking, industrious and intelligent member of the House. always in his place, who enjoyed the confidence and respect of the body.

He will be more efficient next time by reason of his experience. His position in this canvass is to pass no bill affecting the local interests of the people, unless the people of the precincts to be affected by any change ask it at his hands. In other words, he will not put upon any precinct any local measure it does not want, even though a petition of the whole county might show a majority in favor of that measure. He will work upon the local option idea in local measures, thus bringing home to the people the great Democratic doctrine of home rule, and this we understand to be the position of Mr. Morris also.

Mr. Morris is a bright young man, more than usually intelligent and active, of quick apprehension and great common sense, who will at once take rank in the House among its most active and influential members. It is a mechanic of high order, who has had much to do with employed labor. He understands well the needs of the working people and is in thorough sympathy with them.

He is very popular where he is known. At the outset of this race, when it looked like a free fight, Mr.

Morris brought forth and his measure for the issue of bonds for road improvement; but since he has been made a standard bearer, of the Democratic he feels that he is not at liberty to press any local measure on the attention of the people calculated to divide them, and he will abandon that, and give his whole time in the canvass to the discussion of Democratic principles and reasons why the people should stand by the old party that has saved Alabama from financial ruin and social degradation.

The ticket is a good one and will be elected, if the organized Democratic will stand by it, as in duty bound.

Let us forget every local difference, as good Democrats, and unite to elect these men to represent us.

We favor the passage of such election laws as will better secure the government of the State in the hands of the intelligent and virtuous, and that will enable every elector to cast his ballot secretly and without fear or constraint.

This is the plank in the platform of the organized Democracy which the Kolbites are trying to persuade the people of the State to believe means a property and educational qualification for voters. It is susceptible of no such meaning. It means simply the passage of some election law fashioned after the Australian ballot system, such as has been adopted in half the States of the Union, and which was once considered in the Alabama Legislature.

No election law could be passed in Alabama making an educational or property test for voters; because the constitution of the State expressly forbids it. If the Legislature should pass such a law it would not be worth the paper it would be written on.

The Governor could not sign it without violation of his oath, and every court in the country would be bound to pronounce it void. Mr. Kolb has complained in this campaign that employers of labor compelled them to vote in the primaries against him.

Such a law as this thirteenth plank of the Democratic platform calls for would insure absolute freedom of the working people to vote as they please, with no human being to know how they vote. Under the Australian system voters go into a room one at a time and are there this thirteenth plank in Democratic platform. In opposing it he says he is against ballot reform, by which the poor man can have a free expression of opinion without fear of losing a job or without constraint on the part of his employer. In opposing it he says he is not in favor of securing the government of the State by the virtuous and intelligent. On the contrary he says that he is for a continuation of present methods which have become a scandal; that he is opposed to ballot reform; that he is willing to have the ballot box stuffed pervert the will of the people; that he wants bad men in office, and that he will delight to see the weak at the mercy of the strong, the poor man coerced in his choice of officials and the whole people mourning under the rule of the wicked.

CONVENTION NOTES.

Mutton suet is good for mashed tales, if applied in time.

It is easier to make tracks than it is to deliver the goods.

The Alliance delegates concluded to quit the business of drawing other people's chestnuts out of the fire and all calculation was destroyed by this decision. Now if they would take the studs on pulling the delicious nut out of the ashes for Capt. Kolb, they would be more sensible still.

The convention gave notice that no one man or any dozen men can control the Democracy of Calhoun.

We don't take any Gideon's Band in our.

It is said that Brother Dan Doss vehemently and repeatedly gave notice that he was the bell weather of beat 8. There is no doubt of the fact that Daniel is a stem-winder, but we do not think the Democrats of beat 8 will tolerate the expression that they are led by any man. They are a free and independent people in that good old beat.

About the time little Kirby Woodruff got to the middle of his farewell address of defiance to the convention

The Fourth of July Celebration at Aniston was a great success, and Col. John M. Caldwell of that city made a splendid welcome address.

The newspapers state that Col. Robt. McKee has severed his connection with the Piedmont Inquirer. Col. McKee is one of the most graceful and forceful writers on the State press, and we trust it will not be long until he dons the editorial harness again.

The People's Party national convention at Omaha nominated Gen. James B. Weaver, of Iowa, for President, and Gen. J. G. Field, of Virginia, for Vice-President. The old political parties were denounced. Weaver was the Greenback candidate for President fourteen years ago.

Capt. Kolb denies that he made a trade with Blackmore, the Republican candidate for Congress in the 7th Dist., to give Blackmore the alliance vote in exchange for the Republican vote for Kolb; but Blackmore did not deny it when Denson charged it upon him, and he was present on the stand and Denson challenged him to deny it.

The Executive Committee of the Fourth Congressional District met in Aniston the 5th inst., and selected Calera as the place for the Congressional Convention and the 25th day of August as the time. The basis of representation will be the same as in the late State Convention, as is proper. To have changed the basis would have given dissatisfaction in an important part of the District, and this is no time for further dissension in the party.

One of the most deserving men who will offer for Solicitor before the next General Assembly is Hon. L. D. Godfrey, of Sumter county. His circuit is composed of the counties of Sumter, Greene, Pickens, Lanier, Fayette and Tuscaloosa. He was Senator from Sumter for a number of years and the writer had ample opportunity to observe his tireless discharge of duty, his conscientiousness, his ability, and learned to esteem him for these qualities as well as for his amiable disposition and goodness of heart. We trust that he may receive a good support from members of the Legislature in this end of the State.

The beauties of the McKinley bill raising tariff duties "for the protection of American workmen" has just been exemplified at Carnegie's steel works at Homestead, Pa. The wages of the men were reduced and a strike followed. Pinkerton detectives were brought in to control the strikers and a bloody riot followed. Many were killed and wounded on both sides, but the strikers got the best of it and captured the entire force of detectives amounting to several hundred. In the meantime Mr. Carnegie is having his pleasure in his castle in Scotland. It is the tariff laws that have made such men as Carnegie so rich and lordly, and yet the little two by four third party orators tell the people there is nothing in the tariff issue.

Nearly a year ago when Dr. Groce and Mr. Adolphus Longshore were making speeches in this county, the editor of this paper replied to a speech of Longshore at Piedmont and then pointed out to the people clearly the result of their teaching. He predicted the formation of a third party and the unhappy division of the white people which is now upon us with all its awful consequences. After the close of his speech a dear friend of his, who was an ardent member of the Alliance, made light of his predictions and said he was unnecessarily alarmed. Time has shown the correctness of his judgment. Dr. Groce is now a delegate to the Third Party National Convention at Omaha and Longshore is a full fledged third party man, and is business manager of a third party paper in Shelby county.

A SECRET CAUCUS

Between Republicans and Kolb Men in Calhoun County.

IRON CITY, June 30.—W. R. Hammett, a prominent republican, A. P. Taylor, prominent republican and a candidate for the legislature, and A. L. Dodson, editor of the Plover Boy, republican, also, all of Cleburne county, met in conference here for day with J. M. K. Groce, a member of the Kolb executive committee, E. W. Teague and George Eichelberger, members of the Kolb committee, and R. M. Hanna and J. W. Morphy, all Kolb men of Calhoun county. Their meeting was held behind closed doors in an old gin house, and they refused to tell the purpose of their conference except that they "had organized." Some Kolb men on the outside claimed that these leaders and republicans were secretly trading on their votes, and openly declared they could no longer support Kolb and such leaders, but would support Jones from now on and work for him.

The above discloses nothing new to those behind the scenes in politics. An alliance of the Kolb wing of the Democratic party and the Republican party is being effected at many points in the State and an effort is now going on to effect it throughout the State and give Kolb the full strength of the Republican party in the election. Of course the Republicans expect some pay for this and it will probably be in the shape of a combination of the two to give the Republicans some of the congressmen and to give Harrison the electoral vote of Alabama.

The Alliance Herald is already writing Cleveland, the Democratic nominee, down in the bitterest terms it can employ, thus preparing its readers to accept Harrison. In another article it intimates the Republican force bill advocated by Harrison and all the bitter south-hating radicals of the north is no worse than the counting out of negro votes in communities where negro rule means the destruction of every material interest and the social degradation of the white people. The leaders of the Kolb crowd have taken up the old Republican cry, reiterated in the national Republican platform, of a "free ballot and fair count." Recently forty Kolbits assembled in Dallas county to demand of the proper officers of Dallas the appointment of one Kolb manager of election at each polling place, to secure this "free ballot and fair count." Some one of the more decent of them introduced a resolution declaring in favor of white supremacy, and it was voted down. The Kolb platform, in declaring against lynch law, goes far in the hunt for negro support as to surrender the priceless honor of southern white women to the lusts of brutal men who have always deserved their fate when the bullet or the rope has quickly answered an outrage upon the chastity of the wives and daughters of southern men.

The tendency of the Kolb movement is rapidly toward the Radical party and fearfully downward. It will involve all the men concerned in it in the deepest disgrace and shame. The rank and file do not understand it as yet. There are good men following a leadership bent on the ruin of the south. They will yet see the awful chasm over whose brink they are being led and they will draw back in terror and fly to the Democratic house of refuge.

The Senatorial Convention which met at White Plains, July 2nd, nominated Mr. W. A. Porter, of Hedden, by acclamation. He had been chosen by Cleburne in the county primary and Calhoun respected the wishes of Cleburne and gave him his support. He is a good Democrat, a fine stump speaker, and will make an excellent Senator. Let the voters of Calhoun stand by the choice of Cleburne. After the nomination was made, the Cleburne delegation offered a resolution that hereafter the rule shall be a Senator from Cleburne one time and Calhoun two times, and it was passed. Stand by the little sister, since she has been so magnanimous.

When a Kolb supporter comes fooling around you with the lie that the plank in the Democratic platform means a property and educational test, tell him that any fool ought to know the State Constitution forbids that and then ask him about the three bids made by the Kolb leaders for the negro vote, to-wit: That old Republican cry of a "free ballot and fair count," the plank in the platform which promises the negro more rights and privileges than he now enjoys, which would elevate him above the white man, and the virtual declaration that no more negroes shall be lynched for the rape of white women, thus encouraging a fearfully growing evil in the South.

Discussing the Jefferson county address, the Alliance Herald says: "The eleven counties in which no contests were filed, had perfect claims to the seats." Now Calhoun and Shelby are included in these eleven counties. Everybody in this county knows that Kolb did not carry Calhoun. In Shelby not a single Kolb supporter attended the beat meetings. They resolved in advance to not participate. How then can the Kolb organ set up such a claim to Calhoun and Shelby?

The Democratic party has been in power in Alabama over sixty years, with a brief interval, and has never disfranchised any man. During that interval the Republican party was in power and it did disfranchise white men by the thousands. The Republicans of the State are for Kolb.

STRAWS.

Mr. Gordon, of Marshall county has written a letter to the public renouncing Kolb and going over to Jones. He claims he has considered the subject fully and says: "I am bound from principle to support the regular Democratic ticket, being a Democrat myself." Mr. Gordon is one of the best farmers of Marshall county and is a leading alliance man.

Mr. John B. Lassiter of Barbour was nominated by the Kolbits of that county for Sheriff, but he writes a card to the Democratic voters of Barbour in which he declines to accept. He thinks the duty of all good men lies in the support of the regular Democratic nominees.

J. L. Stewart of Barbour county was nominated by the Kolbits for Tax Collector. He has refused it in an open letter to the public through his home paper, and declaring he will vote for the nominees of the organized Democracy, county, State and National, he says: "Such is the duty of all true Democrats, and in the line of that duty all true Democrats must at last be found."

The Alliance conference at Coldwater decided to hold primaries Monday next and hold a convention on Thursday 14th for the nomination of a Senator and two Representatives. Room in the call is left for the nomination of county officers also, if the convention deems proper.

The Gideon's Band in Marshall county has been exposed by one of the members. Who belongs to this Band in Calhoun? Talk about bossism! Here is bossism for you.

THE GOVERNOR REPLIES

TO KOLB'S LAST LETTER ABOUT FAIR ELECTIONS.

He Does Not See How He Can Separate His Individual From His Official Station—His Duty Under the Laws as "They Stand"—The Governor Defends His Position Very Closely.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 2, 1922. Capt. R. F. Kolb, Montgomery, Ala.: Sir—Your last letter addressed to me here and published before I could receive or reply to it, while professedly criticism of me, is in reality an assault upon the good name of the people of Alabama. I avail myself of the earliest opportunity on my return from Tuscaloosa to reply to it.

The Governor's rights, duties and privileges regarding the execution of the laws by other officers are prescribed by the Constitution and laws, and he can have none other. These rights and duties are one and the same in whatever capacity he professes to act. Whatever he ought to do in that behalf as a citizen it is his duty to do as Governor. He cannot enlarge his rights or escape responsibility as official by professing to speak or act only as a private citizen. No man can maintain that the Governor, as a candidate or citizen, may rightly urge upon an officer a course of conduct in the execution of the laws, which it would be improper for the Governor to insist upon officially. No law-abiding man will contend that it would not be illegal for the Governor to urge other officers to abandon duties and discretion which the law commits solely to them and forbids them to entrust to others. When you asked me to join you in requesting election boards in effect to allow our respective partisans to select inspectors, you asked me to urge that which the law forbade them to do.

In addition to this, compliance with your request, in view of the tone and statements of the "open letter," involved not only approval of your assumption of the unfaithfulness of these officers, but intermeddling with the exclusive functions of other departments of the Government, a course from which fidelity to the Constitution, which enforces the separation and independence of the departments, compels me to refrain, whether acting officially or unofficially.

It seems strange, in view of all this, how it escaped you, that official significance would invariably be attached to my act if I joined in your "open letter."

If, as you would seem implicitly to admit from your last letter, it would be improper for me to sign your open letter officially, it would seem equally improper for me to join in it as a candidate.

Those who read the statements in your last letter must be impressed with the belief that the people of Alabama have lost their former civilization, and are now bordering upon a stage of savagery, which threatens to destroy our hopes and institutions, by indulging in anarchy and civil war over a State election. Already like utterances have been broad out of the mouth of labor, whose fields of employment have been closed or narrowed thereby; increased the distress of poor debtors by causing home capital to hoard, and foreign loans to withdraw; crushed progress and development by inspiring fears as to the maintenance of good will and a reign of law; and turned away from our borders many whom we would gladly welcome to our citizenship.

Declarations which tend to such harmful results, no matter what the source whence they emanate, are to be deplored and their evil tendencies are greatly increased when they find support in the utterances of a candidate for high office. I cannot therefore, pass without comment and protest, many of the statements in your letter.

That there have been some foolish sayings on both sides is not denied. They are the inevitable incidents of long and heated campaigns. I cannot learn, however, of any very numerous threats by any body to do any of the things you specify. You make the broad statement that my "friends and supporters have publicly boasted that they would win success in the August election by false counts and frauds." If you had said that some of my and your friends here and there had made some such declarations, I could understand it, and it would, perhaps, be the truth; for there are always hot-headed and passionate men who make such declarations, generally when they are in a hurry to carry them into effect; but the general charge you make is wholly untrue. On what theory do you impute all the dishonesty to one side in this contest, and all the honor to the other?

It is true, I have heard of a few threats "that shot guns would be carried to the polls to have a fair count or blood." These declarations have invariably come from supporters of yours, not mine, who sought thereby to ingratiate themselves with negro voters, and thus to prove their devotion to "white supremacy." I confess these threats have not greatly disturbed me, for the bravado behind them is aware that they involve flagrant violations of our laws, which the civil authorities have both the will and power to prevent.

These isolated threats, here and there, are, however, no index to the sober judgment of the masses of our people. They are not organizing bands for mutual massacre around the polls; they are not thirsting for each other's blood; they have no purpose to overthrow the popular will.

by violence, fraud, intimidation, or any kind of violation of law, as your letter would lead the world to believe. The people who rule Alabama are of the same race and blood, speak the same language, worship the same God, and are proud inheritors of joint memories, hopes, and destiny. Their manhood and womanhood, their wisdom and patriotism, will surely see that all their differences are settled in a manner becoming the dignity and civilization of freedom, rather than by methods which would disgrace the savage.

In view of your statement that I have made myself "responsible for all the troubles which may occur," because I refused to join you in improper interference with election officers, truth compels me to reply that whatever of "widespread anxiety and general solicitude" exists in Alabama are due almost wholly to your acts and methods in this campaign. You really commenced your canvass nearly two years ago, and since then have constantly repeated the charge that the highest representative body in the party had swallowed you, after you had solemnly congratulated it upon its action, promised to espouse the cause of its nominee, and professed to have stamped the State in his behalf. Since then, base charges against the honor of the people have been your constant answer to political defeat, alike when the political machinery was in your hands as when it was against you, and whether delegates were selected by conventions or selected by direct vote of the people; and whatever the testimony of your own friends has been cited to disprove your assertion, the only further answer vouchsafed has been that to fraud they have added treachery. The people of your home county, for no other offense than refusal to endorse your aspirations, have been paraded by you upon the stump as enemies of honest elections and highwaymen of ballots, that you might inflame local prejudices against them among their own race, in other sections, over a basis of representation which you favored until the people ceased to favor you.

You arraigned me on the stump for pardoning at the request of the chief officers of the county a deplorable act, negro charged with a misdemeanor, and condemned me for affording negroes the protection which the law commands me to give against lawless violence, in order to incite the prejudices of my own race against me. And now you stand upon a platform, one of whose planks, however correct in principle, can have no practical purpose or motive in this campaign, except to incite the belief in the minds of the black race, that this and other Democratic administrations have not afforded them protection under the law, in order to incite their race prejudices against me and those who support me.

These are some of your teachings, to say nothing of those of many of your followers, which have had the inevitable effect of producing quietude and anxiety which are heightened, rather than removed by the declaration in your letter that "changers that threaten, which will be brought into exercise," because I would not join you in an interference with election officers, and a causeless admonition to the people to be honest and peaceful.

If the public mind has reached the condition you assert, and all that patriotic men hold dear will not restrain them from deeds of violence, written remonstrances from you and me would be entirely futile. It is worse than futile to hope to still such passions by "open letters."

I have not appealed to prejudices or passion, or started at the honor of the men who opposed me, and say to my countrymen with a clear conscience that by no word or deed of mine in this long campaign have I contributed to the state of feeling, the responsibility for which you now seek, upon the most transparent pretext, to transfer from your shoulders to mine.

A desire for the maintenance of the law, and purity of elections is better proved by a man's record and practices, than by elaborate professions on the eve of elections, in which he is a candidate. If my past record, and the manner in which I have discharged the duty to "take care that the law be faithfully executed," do not convince the people that I desire a fair and peaceful election, no open letters or verbal professions on my part would reassure to that effect were called for, and important, as you suggest, the answer in my letter to you was earnest, plain and direct. My words were too emphatic for any to affect to misunderstand them, and pledged not only my personal, but official influence in favor of fairness, peace and law. It has never been my misfortune to be disbelieved by my countrymen, and I am not concerned lest they be led to doubt my sincerity by false logic which pretends to find unwillingness "to accord my influence to an earnest effort to enforce a fair and honest election," in my refusal to sanction a publication which would have been an improper interference with a coordinate branch of the Government, and interpreted alike by friend and opponent as an impugning of their honor, and an official invitation to them to violate the law.

LIMITED TO THIRTY IN EACH COUNTY.

Whose Duty It Is to Manipulate the Politics of the County and to Force the Alliance Their Way.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

A speech delivered here by Rev. J. T. W. Vernon, president of the Hart county alliance, has created a sensation.

It exposed a secret political agency in the farmers' alliance.

It was a joint debate between the democrats and third party people.

Mr. Vernon is a prominent Baptist minister of Hart county. There is no man more universally respected and beloved. As president of Hart county Alliance he was a delegate to the state convention of the alliance which met in Atlanta last August.

Mr. Vernon opened his speech as follows:

"Democrats and fellow citizens—I come to-night to tell you of the goose that laid the egg that hatched the third party. Most eggs are hatched in about four weeks, but it required six months to hatch the third party egg."

Just here there was great restlessness. This anxiety was happily relieved by the sequel to Mr. Vernon's speech.

Mr. Vernon proceeded substantially as follows: "I was a delegate to the state convention of the alliance which met in Atlanta last August. At that meeting a secret body within the alliance, itself a secret body, was organized under the name of 'Gideon's Band.' Only thirty members are allowed in this from any county in the state. The initiation fee is $2. I hesitated about joining the band, not knowing its purposes. But the leaders insisted and finally proposed as I was a minister of the gospel to interfere with my politics or religion, and was answered in the negative. Here the speaker paused a moment and looking at T. A. McFarland, of this county, said: 'You and I went in together, didn't we brother McFarland?'

Brother McFarland didn't reply, but hanging his head in shame. 'And,' continued the speaker, 'what did we find when we were sworn into Gideon's Band?' That we were to bring into the band thirty men from our respective counties, who were to manipulate the politics of the alliance. These thirty men were to control the officers, force the members of the alliance to vote for the men named by them. Isn't this true, brother McFarland, and didn't you when you visited my county last fall, inquire of me how I was getting along with the work of organizing Gideon's Band, and didn't I tell you that I could have nothing to do with it, as it was inconsistent with the original principles of the alliance, which promised equal justice to all and special favors to none? He said, 'new brother McFarland, and tell me if this is not true?' But brother McFarland was dumb. The speaker continued: 'You remember the sign of the brotherhood, brother McFarland. If a member of Gideon's Band' desired to make himself known, he lashed his tongue, and if his brother happened to be one of the elect, he recognized the sign and lashed his tongue also. Isn't this true brother McFarland? For a third time that evening brother McFarland was dumb.

Mr. McFarland may cry 'falsehood' to the story of Gideon's Band, but he did not dare to do it at Landonia. He spoke after Mr. Vernon, but 'Gideon's Band' was not mentioned. If Mr. Vernon's account of 'Gideon's Band' was untrue, why did Mr. McFarland not rise up then and there and denounce it? It was true, and Mr. McFarland did not dare to rise up in the presence of an honest man and deny it.

Mr. Vernon stated further that an alliance leader from Atlanta was sent to his house last fall to observe the progress he was making with 'Gideon's Band.' Mr. Vernon informed him that he could have nothing to do with such dirty work and washed his hands of the whole business. The alliance man from Atlanta secured around in Hart county and found another man who he initiated into the band, but he happened to be a man of no influence in Hart county, and as a consequence the third party has no strength in that county. Mr. Vernon said 'Gideon's Band' is the goose that laid the egg that hatched the third party.

Nearly two hundred of the best men in Franklin county heard Mr. Vernon's speech and are ready to give affidavits to the truthfulness of this report. Gideonsites may cry 'campaign story,' but fair minded men will not heed them. They may say that Mr. Vernon has misrepresented the facts, but they will not dare to say it anywhere on the soil of Hart county. Mr. Vernon is a man whose honesty is unquestioned and whose life has been blameless.

GIDEON'S BAND.

A DARK LANTERN POLITICAL SOCIETY IN ALABAMA.

Only Thirty to Each County—Organized to Control the Democratic Party—By Beck and Adams.

Snow Hill, June 27.—In an issue of the Montgomery Advertiser of the 24th, I see published the speech of the Rev. J. T. W. Vernon of Georgia, wherein he exposes a secret political organization known as Gideon's Band. The same order exists in Alabama. I moved from Dallas county to Bibb county the last of January, 1891; was merchandising in the town of Randolph, the home of Rev. S. M. Adams, the president of the state alliance. Mr. Adams came to me in the month of June and asked if I would object to joining a secret order for the perpetuation of the democratic party. He stated that only thirty men would be allowed to join from each county, and that men of influence were to be selected from each beat; that J. W. Beck was the state organizer and was present for the purpose of establishing one of the branches in our county.

I have been a black belt working democrat ever since the war—was one of the election managers of my precinct when Dallas county was reclaimed from republican misrule. I have some faint conceptions of the existence of political rings, but had no personal knowledge of its workings. This was my first opportunity to get into a veritable political ring, to enter the sanctum sanctorum or holy of holies. As a matter of course I availed myself of the opportunity. The band was organized in the upstairs of my store, in the town of Randolph in Bibb county, state of Alabama, in the month of June, 1891, by R. W. Beck of Birmingham, and there were present S. M. Adams, myself and others whose names I'll not give, as I presume they have repented, and will not make use of the knowledge imparted to us to the downfall of the democratic party.

Pings, boss rule, political cliques are the hue and cry of Kolb followers. Has Jones allies anything worse than Gideon's Band, the leaders of which have but one step further to go to land them full-fledged into the republican party.

It is not unusual for the P. Y. & G. to sell cheap Summer excursion tickets, as they always look to the interest of their patrons, but now they offer you a One Fare rate to New York with the privilege of returning any day until Aug. 15th, which is an extraordinary arrangement, and within the reach of every one.

ON WHICH SIDE.

Never before during any canvass in this county and State has there been as much anxiety on the part of voters to locate candidates as before their political preferences. Never before has there existed so much confusion on the subject and never before have candidates shown such a disposition to hide out and battle voters who have a perfect right to not only enquire but to know on which side candidates align themselves.

Under old conditions a candidate was known to be a Democrat or a Republican or an Independent. There was no attempt at concealment. But now we have a factional fight in the party and there is room for dodging and dishonest profession to each side in turn than ever before. Here and there among the candidates are bold men who freely avow their preferences between Jones and Kolb, and these are more respected by both sides than the artful dodger who cannot be located. A warm adherent of Capt. Kolb walked up to a candidate for office in Jacksonville a few days ago and said: "I know you are for Jones and not afraid to own it, and for that reason I am going to vote for you. I want a man to have the courage to declare his position on one side or the other. I will not vote for any man who will not do so." And there are hundreds in the county who feel the same way.

There is a right and a wrong side to this fight in the Democratic party and every candidate intelligent enough to hold office has an opinion on the subject. What claim has any man on his fellow-citizens for place when he refuses to declare for the right? No party ought to promote a man who is too timid or too selfish to take his just share of responsibility and risk in a fight for the supremacy of its measures and men.

The Kolb followers in Calhoun, who are seeking office, have been bolder than many candidates who would like to be accounted Jones men by the organized Democracy and yet don't want to so say where the Kolb men can hear it.

What claim has any man on a party when he will not give it the influence of his public support?

Here are men who want the organized Democracy of Calhoun to give them fat places but who would not raise their little fingers to promote the interests of its State ticket, for fear of losing the vote of some man who has gone wild on Kolb. Does such selfishness or cowardice deserve reward? We say no. The Democratic party has no use for men who are not willing to make sacrifices for it or who are afraid to fight its battles.

This is a critical time in the history of the State and never before has the party needed so badly every defender it can muster. If successful, it is going to bestow its rewards upon the cowards in its ranks who hid themselves when the battle raged, or it is going to give its best gifts to the men who were brave to declare for it and fight for it when it needed help.

The organized Democracy of Calhoun has the right to demand service of every man who seeks the suffrage of its voters. It should not tolerate men who will not even go so far as to declare openly for it.

Men who are trying to ride two horses in the contest are foolish. The Kolb men are going to support men who are for their man for Governor and the Jones men are going to do likewise. Both sides are going to drop the men who cannot be placed. They will be objects of suspicion to both sides and will, so to speak, fall between two stools. Never before were the masses of the voters so vigilant and inquisitive. The attitude of candid is being freely discussed among them. The position of every candidate will be discovered in some way, and woe to those candidates who are detected in trying to deceive the people by giving private profession of loyalty to both sides as they talk to the adherents of each in turn.

On which side do you stand? Are you for organized Democracy and the preservation of white supremacy and rule by the virtuous and intelligent, or do you follow the flag of the man who is doing all he can to break down the Democratic party in the State by the help of the Republican party, fully conscious of the terrible consequences that will follow his traitorous act?

Let the voters make candidates speak out. When a man asks you to vote for him ask him where he stands. If he hesitates or tries to let him alone.

"KATIE AND THE BABIES."

To lure good men to ruin the Kolb organs and Kolb speakers are forever reminding them to remember "Katie and the babies."

When the man-eating tiger thirsts for human blood he hides himself in the jungle and imitates the cry of a child in distress, to lure his generous victim to his death. No less cruel, no less deceptive is the cry of "Katie and the babies" in the mouths of men who intend by it to lead men to an act of treason against their blood in contributing to the social degradation of the South, sure to follow the downfall of the organized Democracy and the substitution in its stead of a mongrel party of whites and blacks, officered chiefly, as it will be, by that old Radical gang who have always struggled to raise the negro, by force of law, to an equality with "Katie and babies."

Good friend, God has given you "Katie and the babies" in trust and imposed on you the responsibility to shield them from evil and all that can contaminate or degrade them. A mongrel government in Alabama means mixed schools and the bringing of your sweet and innocent children into an association in the school room that can be only hurtful to them. It means the abrogation of all laws that now keep the races separate and preserves to "Katie and the babies" a civilization founded on a rule of intelligence and virtue. Break down these laws by voting with the negroes, party, endorse the plank in Kolb's platform that declares against lynch law, which plank gives encouragement to brutal and bad men to commit the unpardonable against womanhood, and then it will be indeed farewell to all chances for "Katie and the babies" in our Southland. Don't let political passion and prejudice lead you to a betrayal of your trust. Stand by "Katie and the babies" by resisting every effort to negroize the State, let the effort come from whatever quarter it may.

Col. John H. Caldwell and Solicitor J. T. Martin made fine speeches at Rabbit Town to a large crowd of Jones and Kolb men Tuesday. It has been said that the Kolb men in Calhoun would not go out to hear speakers in behalf of Gov. Jones and organized Democracy, but the meeting at Rabbit Town disproves this. Be it said to their credit no considerable number of people in Calhoun have got to be as narrow and prejudiced as that.

Col. Caldwell and Solicitor Martin will speak at Schenck's Sulphur Springs at 11 o'clock A. M. Saturday and at Laney's at 3 o'clock the same day. Other speakers will go out from Jacksonville as the canvass shapes up. Every true friend of Democracy should be at work.

Having seated himself astraddle the Alliance so firmly as not to be shaken off, Kolb first invited the old time white Republicans of the State to get on and take a ride and these in turn are inviting the negroes to take seats also. Some pitiful little hounds are even running around and promising the negroes to let them sit on juries if they will join the excursion party to hades. What a base betrayal of a noble order! How profoundly pitiful it is to see men who have fought in the Confederate army and men who have borne the banner of white supremacy in many a hard struggle, betrayed to such ignoble uses! White men, arise in your strength and manhood and shake the foul crew from your backs.

The Democratic Campaign Committee of this State, composed of members of the State Executive Committee, has issued an address in which they show that in the white counties of the State Gov. Jones got 136 delegates and Kolb 109 delegates. This shows Kolb was beaten in the white counties, to say nothing of the black counties, which went also heavily against him. He did not carry the State by 15,000 or any popular majority. He would not even go before the Democratic convention, but got up one of his own which was not called by any authority in the party. He is an Independent.

The negroes of Anniston beat and Oxnana held a meeting a few nights ago and issued an address to the various candidates in Calhoun county that they would not endorse any one publicly before a week before the election and J. M. Dawson, Ben Vaire, N. L. Black, I. B. Booser and J. W. Williams were appointed a committee to confer with the various candidates. What do they want to confer about?

The Republican Executive Committee of Lawrence county have issued an address advising the Republicans of that county to support Kolb.

The Kolb Convention.

The Kolb Convention was presided over by Rev. D. P. Williams. Anniston and Ladiga beats had held no beat meetings and were without representation. The credentials committee admitted one gentleman from Ladiga beat, and one gentleman from Anniston to cast the six votes allowed that beat.

On motion of the J. M. Stewart, members of the press were invited to seats at the reporter's table.

Messrs N. J. Stephens, J. W. Anderson and J. M. Sheid were placed in nomination for Representatives. Anderson received 74, Stephens 81 and Sheid 8 votes. Anderson and Stephens were declared the nominees. During a lull in the Convention Tom Harvey, Len Greer and Whit Teague made characteristic speeches. Greer tried to explain his action in the first democratic county convention in May, but could not satisfactorily explain how he came to move instructions for Jones. He did not touch on the charge that he was to get money from the Kolb fund for working for Kolb. Mr. Milligan says that Greer's brother-in-law, Morris, says he heard Greer say he was to get $200. After adjournment of County Convention, the Senatorial Convention nominated George Eichelberger for the Senate. The chairman announced that delegates of the county convention should remain after the audience dispersed, and a secret session was held. No conclusion was arrived at as to county officers. It is understood that matter will be settled Monday night. It is almost certain the Kolbits will agree on a ticket and try to keep it secret.

We learn that certain white men in this county, who are followers of Capt. Kolb, are reading the comments of this paper on the 13th plank of the Democratic platform to the negroes and pointing out that expression in the article which declares that "this is a white man's government," thereby attempting to prejudice them against the organized Democracy, which is supporting Jones. What do these Kolb supporters mean by this? Do they intend to convey to the minds of the negroes the idea that the Kolb party is not in favor of white supremacy? What other interpretation can be put upon their acts? Good men of Calhoun, it is time you began to open your eyes. One of these fine mornings you will wake up and find yourself enlisted with negroes to fight your white brothers while they struggle to maintain the supremacy of your race in a country won by the blood of white men.

The Democratic Jones Club meeting in this place last Saturday was very largely attended by people from all parts of the county and there was a regular old camp meeting time. Col. Caldwell and Solicitor Martin made the speeches of the day. Shorter speeches were made by Messrs S. D. G. Brothers, W. W. Whiteside, J. J. Arnold, H. T. Persons, Carson Fife, J. M. LeGrand, G. P. Hudson, Dr. Ayers, Flournoy Crook, L. W. Grant, B. W. Duke, W. J. Scott, Mr. Hallman from Laney's, and perhaps others. All these spoke boldly for Jones and his cause; steps were taken to organize the party throughout the county by the formation of clubs to co-operate with this and other clubs in the county, and a resolution was passed requesting the nominees of the organized Democracy for the Legislature to make appointments and canvass the county.

In his radical and incendiary speech at Opelika, with all his rancorous hate of the party which is resisting the attempts of Kolb and Bowman to negroize the State, Bowman confessed that Gov. Jones was a good man. Testimony coming from such a source ought to silence the little fellows who are running about over the county retelling lies on the Governor and painting him in the blackest colors imaginable. "Jones is a good man." His high character has wrong praise from the lips of his bitterest foe.

Mr. Adams said in his speech at Opelika that he doubted the report that State Lecturer Beck would take the stump for Jones. But all the same Mr. Beck has made appointments to go with Gov. Jones to several points in the State and speak for him. Beck, like many other conservative men of the Alliance, sees the dangerous tendency of the Kolb movement and is doing all he can now to help put out the fire he and others have kindled.

The Green Boys of Greensport, in St. Clair county, and two Dillard boys from Smokebeck in Elowah county went to Hokes Bluff with a steamboat excursion party. The Dillard boys were for Kolb and the Green boys for Jones. They quarreled over their favorites and a fight ensued. Whit Dillard was stabbed near the heart and cannot live. Bill Green had one of his fingers cut off. All were more or less hurt.

Senator Jno. T. Morgan has written a letter to Mr. T. O. Barnett, a young man of this State, in which he says: "You younger men should come forward, take up this campaign with determined energy and push the fight without a halt. You will never see a day when your services to the state and the country will be more needed or more valuable."

Jones will carry Calhoun by one thousand votes.

Beat 12. At Iron City, Saturday 30, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Whitt Teague acknowledged in the course of a speech at the county convention of Kolbits, that the lion of Realism and the lamb of Democracy in Cleburne and Calhoun were lying quietly down together. Later in the Republican office, in conversation with several gentlemen, he acknowledged that the Kolbits and Radicals and negroes would go together in Calhoun.

Whitt Gray, of Cleburne, attended the Kolb convention here and publicly offered to deliver Cleburne to Mr. Eichelberger for the Senate. Whitt can hardly deliver himself, much less the good people of Cleburne. He wanted to go to the House or Senate from Cleburne, but neither the Democracy, the Third Party nor the Republicans wanted him.

Nobody has been kicked out of the Democratic party. Those who have followed Kolb off, have gone out of it voluntarily. Kolb would not even go before the State Democratic Convention. Democratic speakers all over the State are now out begging men to come back into the party and abandon Kolb and his Radical combination.

Candidates who have not yet paid for their announcements are requested to do so at once, or the same will be put out for collection. Terms for announcements are cash, but as a matter of accommodation some of the candidates were indulged for a few days. We ask them now to settle and not abuse a kindness by longer delay.

The Alliance Herald tries to fix the Gideon Band on the "Jones supporters." This won't work. Mr. Albritton says "Parson Adams and State Lecturer Beck organized the band, and they have not denied it yet. The worst thing about this band is that men outside the Alliance were taken into it to boss the Alliance."

The nominees of the organized Democracy for the Legislature have offered to divide time with their competitors. Mr. Stephens has signified a willingness to enter into joint debate, we learn.

FELIX FOSTER.

Wont Accept a Nomination at The Hands of the Bolters, and is For Gov. Jones.

In an interview with a reporter of the Anniston Evening News, the 9th inst., Felix Foster had the following to say:

"I am not now and will not be a candidate for the legislature at the approaching election," said Mr. Foster, "although I have been repeatedly solicited by farmers in the county to become a candidate."

"Another thing I want to deny, and that is the inference left on the minds of many people that I stated to the Kolb men that if I was nominated by the county convention which met in Jacksonville on June 28th, that I would have to vote for Jones. I never made any such statement. When the Kolb men came to see me about that matter I told them that I had always voted for the nominees of the Democratic party, and that I would suffer the loss of my right arm rather than desert my principles, that if they could not vote for me upon these principles I would not change them to be chosen President of the United States, much less to be elected to the State legislature."

"There are qualities possessed by Col. Jones that I do not admire in a governor; there are principles advocated by Capt. Kolb which I do admire, but I regard Col. Jones as the Democratic nominee and as such I propose to support him."

A candidate who will misrepresent a fact, or his own position, to induce men to vote for him is unworthy of the support of any honest man.—Tuskegee News.

Pretty Full Details of Its Plans, Purposes and Methods.

ITS SECRET SIGNS AND BADGE

"Bossism." That has been the rallying cry of the Kolb clan for months and months.

They have made hundreds of people believe that the Democratic party was run by bosses and ringsters in the antagonism to the interests of the people, and accordingly have tried to array as far as possible the masses in the country against the bosses in the towns.

But it has been developed that the Kolb crowd out-Herod Herod when it comes to bossing. They have organized within the secret Alliance another secret order for the confessed purpose of not merely bossing all classes outside the Alliance, but the Alliance itself. This rug of bosses turns out to be the most high-handed band of manipulators and political parties has ever known.

It will be remembered that on June 29th the Advertiser printed a card from Mr. W. G. W. Albritton, of Wilcox, declaring that a "Gideon's Band" was organized in his store at Randolph, in Bibb County, by State Lecturer Beck of the Alliance, and that he joined the Band on the solicitation of President Adams. He declared that it was devised for bossing the politics of the county.

This card of Mr. Albritton's has caused a great sensation. Naturally the heaven is beginning to work, and much more of the existence and workings of the Band is coming to light.

Mon. John A. Lusk, Solicitor of the 9th Circuit, was in the city yesterday. He stated that Mr. Albritton's card had attracted considerable attention up his way, and had brought to light some further information of the greatest value. Said Mr. Lusk:

"I have the fullest confirmation of Mr. Albritton's statements. There is a Gideon's Band in Marshall county, and from what I can gather in every county in the State also."

Is your source of confirmation authoritative and reliable, Mr. Lusk? "Thoroughly so, I believe. I have it from a man who declares that he is one of the initiated, who is a reliable man. But here is a first-rate proof of the reliability of his statements."

Hereupon Mr. Lusk opened his pocket-book and handed the Advertiser what appeared to be a silver coin about the size of a half dollar. On closer inspection it was found to be plated brass or some sort of composite white metal. On each side were a lot of figures and letters stamped in raised characters, like the work on a coin. On one side were these characters: "7-G-ALA" and on the other: "300-3-23-1891." These mystic symbols were arrayed in the following order on the obverse and reverse of the medal:

"That," said Mr. Lusk, "is the secret badge of the Band. My informant tells me that '7-G-ALA' means Gideon's Band in the 7th Alabama District, and that '300-3-23-1891' means the Biblical number of Gideon's Band—three hundred, organized in 1891; the 3 means three captains in the county, and the 23 means the twenty-three members in Marshall, one for each beat in the county."

Who did this man tell you organized the Band in your county?

"The late Col. J. L. Sheffield and Geo. C. Gaither, in the latter part of last year. C. T. Norton, who lives on Sand Mountain, about eight miles south of Guntersville is said to be one of the Captains."

Did he give you any of the other secrets of the Band?

"Oh, yes, he told me all about it, I reckon. He gave me the secret signs. When one member wishes to try another, he first lolls his tongue out of one corner of the mouth this way. (Mr. Lusk suited the action to the word by sticking his tongue out at the corner of his mouth in a peculiarly suggestive way.) If the person to be tested responds with the same sign, then the first member next cups his hand, sweeps it down and up, as if dipping up water, and then with the tongue indicates an attempt to lap it. The second person, if a member, responds with the same sign manual. Then the first person foregoes secret badge and exhibits it, to which the person being tested responds by producing its match. They are then ready for secret communications."

Did your informant tell you anything of the oath of initiation?

"Yes, he stated in substance that the oath is that each member is to carry out the directions and orders of the whole Band; that each member is to work to this end in the Alliance of his beat; and that all are to abide by the orders of the three county captains and the final arbiters in all issues within the Band; that their work should be to control the politics of their county; that their existence, as well as work, was to be kept a secret from other Alliance members as well as outsiders."

Was there any penalty set for revelation of the secrets of the Band?

"Yes, he said that death is named as the penalty for revealing what he told me."

Did not this man revolt at the very idea of such an order?

"Well, he said that it was represented to him as simply another higher degree within the Alliance, to which only a few choice spirits were admitted, and that it was necessary to maintain this profound secrecy in order to rule the order efficiently. It would not do to let the rank and file know that there was an inner circle."

Have you got any evidence corroborative of the statements of this member of Gideon's Band?

"Another Allianced man told me yesterday, after I had detailed the foregoing to him, that he had no doubt it was all true from an experience of his own. He stated that at last Fall's court in our county, an Allianced man exhibited to him a list of members in every beat in the county on which was his name, with the explanation that it was desired to select one good man in every beat to control the politics of the county. Notwithstanding this man's name was on the list, he declined to serve, and it was the last he heard of the thing. But this man said he remembered a number of the names on that list, and that some of the persons on it are now very active in the Alliance movement."

Have you heard of any corroborative evidence of all this from outside of Marshall county, besides that of Mr. Albritton?

"Yes. I have learned that Mr. W. J. Harmon, of Easonville, St. Clair County, during the recent judicial convention at Talladega, exhibited to Mr. H. G. Earnest, of Piedmont, a secret badge, just like the one I have shown you, except that it had '23' on it in place of the '23' on this, evidently referring to the number of beats in his county. Mr. Harmon said that it was the badge of a secret order."

Did you learn anything of the organization and working of the Band in the State at large? Do the county captains obey State colonels and brigadiers, and is there a Gideon?

"No, I heard nothing on that line, though I never took pains to inquire. I was told, however, that Kolb and Adams were both members."

So here are the details of the most compact and arbitrary secret ring of bosses ever devised for political manipulation. There is little doubt that every county has one of these inner circles of bosses within the Alliance, of which the rank and file has been kept profoundly ignorant. Its very existence has been made secret on penalty of death.

Doubtless if the names of many of these in various counties were known, the common people in the order would rise up in wrath against their unworthy bossism. Many of them are probably utterly unfit in character, much less brain, to control their brethren in the Alliance, and to boss the making of states, and the general politics of the country. Numbers of them are in all likelihood persons who have been time and again repudiated by their neighbors as unfit for leadership, until they have become sorcerers, ripe and ready material for Kolb and the other State manipulators of the Band to use in their unholy movement against true Democracy, white supremacy and honest government.

Allianced men who are good Democrats should inquire into this thing, and see who are the men Kolb has selected and put into this secret Band to lead them around by the noses. They will find that the cry of bossism by Kolb, his organ and speakers, is the boldest hypocrisy, concealing the most audacious system of bossism that can be conceived. Let good Democratic Allianced men ferret out these Bands, and compare them in character, brain and record with the leading party men all around them and over the State, whom they have always respected and heard gladly. Then let them decide whether they shall carry out the arbitrary orders of this death penalty Band, or head the counsel and wisdom of the strongest, purest, most patriotic Democrats in all the country.

In order that readers of this paper may better understand the term "Gideon's Band," which has been so profoundly distorted and prostituted by the Kolb clan in the following first eight verses of the 11th chapter of Judges are re-printed here:

"Then Jerubbaal, who is Gideon, and all the people that were with him, rose up early, and pitched beside the well of Harod; so that the host of the Midianites were on the north side of them, by the hill of Moreh, in the valley."

Second—And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel vaunt themselves against me, saying, Mine own hand hath saved me."

Third—Now therefore go to, proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, Whosoever is fearful and afraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gilad. And there returned of the people twenty and two thousand; and there remained ten thousand."

Fourth—And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people are yet too many; bring them down unto the water, and I will try them for thee: and it shall be, that of whom I say unto thee, This shall go with me; and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This shall not go with thee, the same shall not go."

Fifth—So he brought down the people unto the water; and the Lord said unto Gideon, Every one that lapped of the water with his tongue, as a dog lapped, him shalt thou set by himself; likewise every one that bowed down upon his knees to drink."

Sixth—And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, were three hundred men; but all the rest of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water."

Seventh—And the Lord said unto Gideon, By the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into thine hand; and let all the other people go every man unto his place."

Eighth—So the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets; and he sent all the rest of Israel every man unto his tent, and retained those three hundred men, and the host of Midian was beneath him in the valley."

MOSELY AND LONG.

We learn from a gentleman present that R. A. Mosely, Internal Revenue Collector of Alabama, and Capt. B. M. Long both delivered speeches at a Fourth of July celebration favorable to Kolb's candidacy for Governor, Monday. Right in this connection we want to ask a question. Is it a sign that the anti-Kolb sentiment is growing, for two of the most prominent Republicans in the State to take the stamp for the Democratic? Is it a sign that Kolb is in league with these prominent Republicans to turn the State over to them?—Jasper Eagle.

Exactly. All disguise has been thrown off by the Republicans and Kolbits, and the two are flocking together like birds to their roosting place. Mosely and Long are the heads of the two Republican factions in this state, and already they have laid aside their own differences in order that together they may be more effective in working for Kolb. Their two state committees have been called together for conference and a juncture of forces in one supreme effort to destroy the white man's Democratic party by united Republican and negro support of anything to get these candidates of the opera house agreement of sorcerers and nation-ents.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

KOLB AND THE FORCE BILL.

The Radicals at Pratt Mines Endorse Both.

Twenty-five white Republicans and about forty negroes held a meeting at Pratt Mines Saturday night. The primary object of the meeting was to select candidates for the beat offices, to oppose the Democratic nominees.

Incidentally resolutions were passed as follows:

"We affirm our allegiance to the Republican party and denounce the treatment of the negro by the white people of the South."

"We endorse the able, wise and patriotic administration of Benjamin Harrison."

"As between the two Democratic candidates for governor we are for Reuben F. Kolb."

"Whereas, we have seen published in the Birmingham 'Iron Age' an extract from a speech delivered by one E. T. Taliaferro before the Tammany Club, of New York, in which he said he had been instructed by the miners of New York to tell the people of New York that they hoped that the Force Bill would not be forced upon them."

"And whereas the said Taliaferro is a deserter from Captain Kolb, our choice for governor," Therefore, be it resolved, that we the miners of Pratt Mines, in public meeting assembled, do publicly repudiate the utterances of the said Taliaferro and denounce that he does not voice our sentiments."

"That he is not, never has, and never will be, our champion. We favor any law which will give an honest man an honest count of his ballot."

At the Kolb convention in Calhoun they openly proclaimed that the Republican lion and Kolb lamb were going to lie down together in August. When the lion gets up the lamb will be inside of him.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Young man, if you have any aspirations for the future, stand by your race in this political struggle.

Hon. L. W. Grant went to Cleburne to speak in the canvass in that county the middle of this week.

The Kolbits are on the run all over the State. Too much mixing of the races to suit the blue blooded white men of Alabama.

In another place we publish the appointments for speaking by the County Executive Committee up to the 23rd inst.

Rev. Mr. Ellis, an aged Methodist minister, well known throughout the State, has been writing some strong appeals through the press to voters to stand by the organized Democracy and save the State from ruin.

Seeing the damaging effect of it, Bowman has been trying to deny his Opelika speech; but many of the best men in Opelika certify that he said what was reported and more.
It has knocked voters off of Kolb by the score in every county of the State.

Kolb and his speakers say they are Democrats; but at the same time they won't say they will support the National Democratic ticket. What kind of Democrats are those who refuse to support the nominees of the Democratic party from President to county office? The test of a man's Democracy is in his support of its nominees.

All Calhoun knows Tyler Ledbetter.
He is an honest and conscientious alliance man and farmer. He went to Montgomery during the State Convention and there went into one of Kolb's caucuses. There he heard hatched the scheme to beat white men in Alabama by the help of negro and Republican votes. He tells the public about it in a letter published elsewhere. Read it.

It has been well said that the organized Democracy wants the negro vote, because it is to the good both of the negro and the white man that he should so vote; but it makes no deal with the leaders of the Republican party for the negro vote and don't promise anything to that party in November for the same. The organized Democracy is the natural foe of the Republican party and can make no deals with it.

Maj. W. P. Gorman was one of the most enthusiastic and energetic workers for Kolb before the State convention in the whole State. He spoke for him in many counties and would fight for him if necessary. He is an honest and truthful man and believed in Kolb. He has found out how he was mistaken in his man, and tells the public about it. We print extracts from a late speech of his in Jefferson county. Read it.

The letter of Kolb to Welch, published elsewhere from the Layette Sun, shows that Kolb was meditating treason to the Democratic party when he was most loudly declaring his purpose to abide the action of the State Convention. His Jefferson county platform which he read during his speeches declared in favor of the support of the nominees of the organized Democracy. Even while he was reading this platform, he was writing such letters as this one to Welch and laying the plans to distrust the party.
How can a man be trusted who will thus double-deal with his supporters?
Mr. Welch was a supporter of Kolb until he got that letter. Then his eyes were opened and he dropped him. Kolb has acknowledged that he wrote the letter.

THE KOLB PLATFORM AND THE ALLIANCE-DEMANDS.

One plank in the Kolb platform reads as follows:
"We favor the protection of capital by guaranteeing to every person or corporation equal protection with all other citizens, of the unquestioned right to do as they please with their own—all property bearing its equal share of taxation."

This is directly in conflict with the demands of the Ocala and St. Louis demands, which demand government control of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, or in event they cannot be controlled, government ownership of the same.

Kolb's platform says they have the unquestioned right to do as they please with their own. The State allows railroad corporations extraordinary privileges. It gives to them its own right of eminent domain and allows them to condemn the property of private citizens to their own uses, no matter how strenuously the individual may object. This is done because they are regarded as of great public benefit. In return for this extraordinary grant of power, the Democratic theory is that the railroads owe something to the people in return and must not discriminate in freights or overcharge, or make the railroad a burden and nuisance rather than a benefit. But Kolb's platform flies in the face of the Democratic and Alliance doctrine on this point and says in effect "let the railroads have power to take the land of the farmer without his consent, let them charge him whatever they please when he travels or ships his cotton on their lines, let them give him good service or bad service for his money, it is no business of the State; they have the unquestioned right to do as they please with their own." The Alliance Herald tries to break the force of this by saying the declaration of the Kolb platform on this head is only the assertion of a common law right. Maybe so, but the Democratic party has gone beyond the common law and has by statute law controlled corporations in the interest of the people. For this reason railroad commissions were made and numerous laws passed holding corporations to just responsibility for their acts. So also have the working people in the mines and shops of corporations of a different character been protected and the corporations held to a strict accountability to them under Democratic law.
But Mr. Kolb says in his platform this is all wrong; that corporations have the questioned right to do as they please with their own. The last State Legislature did not so hold when it passed the bill appointing a State Inspector of mines, whose duty it should be to require mining corporations to provide for the safety and health of the miners. Read Kolb's platform on this head and then read the declaration of the platform of the organized Democracy and see the wide difference. Here is the Democratic platform:

"We favor such further legislation as will better regulate corporations chartered by the State."
The Alliance Herald tries to break the force of this by asking "how better regulate," and complains that the platform did not set out a detailed statement of how it was to be done.
Platforms are the enunciation of gen-
legislation. None know this better than the Herald. It presumes on the ignorance of its readers when it asks the question. The Democratic party has already shown how in the case of the railroads and mines and declares its purpose to improve on these.

The Democratic party will never endorse the vicious principle that corporations, which derive their power from the State, are above regulation, by the State. The people have some rights which Mr. Kolb don't seem to respect.

Circuit Clerk, Willis W. Curry, of Marshall county has published an open letter to the people of Marshall county giving his reasons for abandoning the support of Kolb. When the National Democratic Convention recognized the delegates sent by the State House convention, thus recognizing the Jones faction as the regular Democracy of the State, he could only accept the result.

He quits Kolb also because the Republicans are all flocking to his standard. The Republicans do not support pure Democracy when they can find any of the spurious element to support. The very fact that the Radicals are supporting Kolb, proves that they regard the Jones element as the Democratic party of the State.
Mr. Willis Curry reasons right about the matter. He says many true and tried Democrats in Marshall agree with him and are leaving Kolb's standard.

The canvass was formally opened by Messrs. Williams and Morris, nominees for the Legislature of the organized Democracy, at Four Mile church in June Bug beat Monday. A good crowd greeted the speakers and they made a most favorable impression. Although invited to attend, their opponents did not put in an appearance. Is it possible they are afraid to discuss their principles in public, where they can be answered? After the nominees had spoken Messrs. Agee and McGee of Anniston, Rev. D. B. Turner of that beat, and L. W. Grant, of Jacksonville, were called out, and made short speeches. Beat 3 is all right for the nominees.

Annis-ton has registered 1649 names and will vote nearly solid for Jones.
The majority for Jones in the county will be not less than one thousand.

Suppose that some man, Gov.
Jones for instance, should advise the organized Democrats of Calhoun not to go out to hear Kolb speakers.
Don't you think they would resent it? Don't you know that Gov. Jones would be quickly told he was dealing with free white men who generally exercised their own free judgment as to whom they would hear speak?
Kolb's organ advises his followers to stay away from Democratic speakers and the great mass of them obey; and yet these gentlemen have the cheek to talk about "bossism."

Cunningham beat voters in Perry county have flocked solidly from Kolb to Jones. We print their resolutions in another column.

Kolb's deal with the negroes and Republicans have done the work in Perry, as it is doing the work in Calhoun and all over the State.
People don't want to see any more mongrel parties in Alabama, with the bad government, high taxes, mixed schools, public plunder and general demoralization which such a condition entails.

No man in the State has been more prominent in the alliance circles than John W. Pitts, of Shelby county.
He is the father of the third party.
Shelby. Now comes his son-in-law, Wm. H. Kidd, the presser of the assessor of the county, who has been training with Pitts, and denounces the Third party and Kolbism. He has been behind the scenes and has become alarmed at the tendency of the movement. And so good men are doing all over the State. The Kolb movement will be a mighty small affair by election day.

It has developed now that it is Kolb's plan to set up a Legislature of his own, when he is beaten at the election, as he set up a convention of his own when beaten for the nomination. He hopes to have Federal bayonets come into Alabama to settle the dispute. What sort of a Democrat is the man who would thus accept the governorship at the hands of President Harrison, with all the obligation that such acceptance implies? Do you want to invite Federal soldiers to the State by your vote?
If so vote for Kolb.

The Gideon band bosses are doing all they can to keep their followers from hearing speeches from organized Democrats or reading organized Democratic newspapers. But many of them wear no collar and remember that they are free white men, and go out to hear whom they please and read whatever newspapers they please. The very attempt to keep their followers away from speaking is an acknowledgment by the Gideonites that their principles will not stand the test of honest discussion.
On the contrary the organized Democracy invites discussion and offers to divide time with the Kolbits.
Democracy has no secrets and processes no principle it is not willing to defend in the presence of the world.

Two years ago, owing to the dissatisfaction growing out of the action of the State Convention, large numbers of Democrats in the country beats of Calhoun did not vote for Jones, and the result was that in the county convention the country did not have the number of delegates it would have otherwise had and the county had only eight votes in the State Convention when it should have had twelve to sixteen. This election promises to be worse in this respect than the last, and to this point we wish to direct the attention of the country people.
The towns in the county are going to vote almost solidly for Jones. If the country votes largely for Kolb, the towns will control the next county convention. Now, Kolb is a dead duck. No well informed man in the State believes he will come within twenty-five thousand votes of election. Why then throw away your votes on him and thus deprive your beat of its just strength in the coming conventions of the party?

A Kolb supporter, writing to the Talladega Mountain Home of the recent grand alliance-Kolb rally in Talladega county, thus speaks of the incident that has attracted so much attention throughout the State. He says there were five hundred present including women, children and the colored people. After noting the speeches of W. H. Skeggs and Mr.
Bowman, and after informing the public that "we had a grand time —a regular levee feast, you might say," he thus speaks of a negro who was permitted to speak to the wives and daughters of the farmers of Talladega:

"After dinner we were addressed by the young colored orator from the city of Talladega, Mr. Allen, Mr.
Allen is an intelligent young colored man, who was educated at the Talladega colored college. He is a very bright young man and made a splendid speech, which all seemed to enjoy very much. As many colored people were present they were of course given the front seats, as this speech was for their special benefit.
Yet his speech was listened to very attentively by both white and colored, and was well received by all.
Judging from the applause given him by both white and colored, Mr. Allen is a rising young man and will yet make his mark in the world. I will venture to say he is one of the coming politicians of our country."

On the fourth page we print the address of the Executive Committee of Walker county to the voters of that county. It shows clearly the absurdity of Kolb's claim that he is the nominee of the Democratic party.
Read it.

Speaking at Peaceburg.

The speaking and picnic at Peaceburg was attended by several hundred people. The nominees of the organized Democracy for the Legislature spoke and made a fine impression. The Kolbit candidates were not on hand, though there is a standing invitation in the notice of appointments for them to participate.
Rev. Dan Williams, a Kolbite, was permitted to speak, though it was a Jones gathering. The Jones men are for discussion. Messrs. J. J.
Willett, J. M. Caldwell, Benj. Micou and Solicitor Marth also spoke, and great good was effected.

Why do the Kolb men shrink discussion. If they have a good cause they should not be ashamed to defend it in any presence. Never before in the history of this county have candidates of any party refused to meet the nominees of the Democracy when invited.

Williams and Morris are going to be elected to the Legislature by a bigger majority than has ever been given to a Democratic nominee in Calhoun. They are for the interests of the whole county and announce they will put no local law upon the people to which they object. But better than this they represent the organized Democracy, which stands for the preservation of the public interest and the protection of our wives and children from the degrading influences of a mongrel government.

The REPUBLICAN has always held that the great bulk of the alliance in Calhoun county are true Democrats who want to do right; and we won't believe otherwise until we have seen them walk up to the polls in August and vote for the disruption of the Democratic party by voting for Kolb.

Mr. Albritton says the alliance Herald knows more of Gideon band than it cares to confess, and he challenges Mr. Adams to deny that he was one of the organizers of the band of bosses in the State.

CAL DAYS."

McIver reiterates his report, and is sustained by Numbers of Prominent Opelika Citizens.

MONTGOMERY, July 14.—The following card will appear in the Advertiser tomorrow morning:
The following appeared in the Kolb organ of this city yesterday morning:
"Birmingham, July 13.—Publish in your next issue that McIver's report of Opelika is a lie, which has been printed in the Montgomery Advertiser is a willful and malicious lie." "Peyton (C. Bowman)."

I do not care to bandy words with Mr. Bowman and in the newspaper press only to refer only to that assertion for the case with which the people have to do. I went to Opelika in the discharge of my duty as the Advertiser representative to make a true and correct report of the speech made at the "grand Kolb rally," advertised for that day. How well and faithfully I discharged that duty I will leave to the decision of the people. The report of the portion of the speech, which was printed in the Montgomery Advertiser, is a malicious and willful lie. I was born and reared in Alabama, have been engaged in newspaper work for over twenty-five years, and my character is well established with those who know me. I have no fear of an issue of veracity between myself and the chairman of the Kolb committee.
I took notes of the speech, and was especially careful to take down the portion of the speech, which was spoken by those who were not nominated by any means, and declaring that with the aid of negroes and Republicans he could easily be elected.

legates of the respective candidates, and while some who composed the Kolb wing seemed to be very nice men, a majority of them would not bear comparison with the Jones delegates. I saw the Kolb men bolt, and witnessed some of the proceedings in both conventions. With the facts before me, I took my position, and I took it coolly and dispassionately and conscientiously. With the friends of Governor Jones. And now I wish to say to my friends and fellow citizens that in taking this position I have not been prompted by any mean or selfish motive, for I claim to be nothing but a plain, hard working farmer, and am not and never expect to be a candidate for any office. I have tried to discharge my duty as a citizen, and have proven my devotion to the South by shedding my blood in her cause.
And now I want to see many of those who met with me the story of battle, like my friend McClellan, pursuing a cause which I honestly believe will lead to evils, of which I cannot think without a shudder.

A MANLY LETTER.

He Gives the Reason for His Change.

PEDMONT, July 14th, 1892.

EDITOR HON. BLAIR—I have just received a letter from my old friend Mr. Bailey McClellan, in which he expresses surprise at my course respecting the Kolb cause, and asks me for the information and the information of others of my friends, who do not seem to understand the motives which have prompted me to abandon the cause of Kolb and to espouse that of Governor Jones. I will say like my friend McClellan, I was brought up in the Democratic faith, and ever since I have been old enough to vote, I have voted the Democratic ticket, for I have always believed that upon the success of Democratic principles depend the peace, safety and prosperity of the South. I remember how in the dark and stormy days of reconstruction, when my native State was in the control of unprincipled slaveholders, carpetbaggers and ignorant negroes, the Democratic party was the means under Providence, of securing the State from the chains of misrule, oppression and ruin, and of placing the country in the hands of white men, who with interest it in good government, and just and wholesome laws.

Since that time we have controlled our own local affairs, and have been blessed with a reasonable degree of prosperity; but of late the country has been suffering on account of the scarcity of money and low prices of agricultural products. As to the cause of these evils, there are differences of opinion, but of one thing I am perfectly satisfied, and that is, that the Democratic party is not responsible for the present state of affairs. The cause of the evils has not had the control of all the branches of the government, since the war, and has been powerless to afford the needed relief.

Until the meeting of the late State Democratic convention, as is well known to many of my friends, I was a strong Kolb man, as I, as well as many others, regarded him as the leader of the farmers, and as the advocate of equal rights to all, and special favors to none; and I was anxious that he should be the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor. I went to the convention, mingled freely with the friends of both the candidates for the nomination, with the view of determining which was the choice of the Democratic party, and which was the true exponent of Democratic principles.
I heard expressions from the Jones delegates who urged the importance of the triumph of true Democracy and I heard the friends of Kolb at his headquarters and in his caucuses, and I saw the result of the nomination by any means, and declaring

What do you think of a cause that avoids discussion?

Many good men are turning from Kob to Jones. They will never regret it.

Will you vote for men who will not meet their opponents on the stump and discuss political issues before the people.

It is easy enough to be for Jones after his friends have whipped the fight. Where were you when the issue was doubtful.

The colored people of this beat met in the court house Thursday night and unanimously resolved to support Gov. Jones.

The Democracy wants no trimmers, cowards or camp followers.
Vote for bold men who have not been afraid to speak out for the party when it was in peril.

There are men now howling loudest for Jones who would have been howling just as loudly for Kolb if the tide of battle had gone in his favor.
Out upon such time-servers.

Hon. W. A. Porter, nominee for Senator of the district composed of Calhoun and Cleburne, will speak in the court house at Jacksonville, Saturday, July 30th, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

The people of Calhoun, white and black, want no strife and rivers of blood and armed men at the polls as Bully Bowman advises. They are going to vote for Jones and peace and prosperity and a reign of law and leave Bully Bowman and his man Kolb to bitter reflection over their abortive attempt to disrupt the Democracy and inaugurate a race war.

Dr. W. W. McMillan, of Monroe county, nominated for senator by the Kolbits some time ago, addressed a Kolb meeting the other day, resigned the honor, and declared for Jones and organized democracy. The doctor said: "I never could become an independent. By education, association and principle I always supported organized democracy, hence I could not accept the nomination." This is only one of many instances of refusals to follow Kolb out of the convention.

All the flood sufferers in Marion and Greene counties are farmers and the greater part of them are negroes; but big-hearted Governor Jones appealed to the people of the State for them and money is going to their relief from every city and town in the State. Yet the farmers and negroes whom Kolb orators believe that Gov. Jones and the people of the cities and towns are enemies of the farmers.
If Gov. Jones cared nothing for these suffering people why did he use the influence of his high office to procure relief for them? Think of this before you vote.

In a secret, circular Bowman, Kolb's manager, advises the Kolb challengers to go to the polls armed.
This is his idea of a free election in this free land. Because he is a shed-der of blood, he thinks other men are also. He will learn that the law loving people of Alabama will not regard his counsel. We have no need of arms at the polls. We are all friends and brothers and can settle this election as we have others since 1874, by the peaceful method of the ballot.
Bowman would make widows and orphans and light the fires of hell in the breasts of the negro race to make Kolb Governor; but he will fail.
The people love peace and the law better than they love Kolb.

The Kolb orators have been howling against what they are pleased to term "bossism" all over the State.
It is their stock in trade. Every man whom the people have honored and elected to office, or who has been conspicuous in the councils of the Democratic party, or who has taken a large degree of interest in public affairs has been classed as one of the "bosses" and the people have been warned against him as if he were a public enemy.

At the same time no body of men in the State have been so completely "bossed" as have been the rank and file of Kolb's supporters. They were induced to join the alliance under the false pretense that it could not become a secret political party. In violation of good faith a political platform was formulated at Ocala by the leaders of the movement and the rank and file were dragged into its support against their will. County alliances pledged them over and over to stand on the demands and vote for no man who would not favor them; thus virtually separating them from their party associates and laying the foundation for the Third party, which now exists with those demands for its platform. Kolb, Adams & Co., rode the party freely and whenever an independent thinking allianceman kicked he was at once ta-boozed. They even set themselves above criticism and the rank and file of the order were taught that any abuse or criticism of its leaders by a free press was an attack upon the order. Then began the work of boycotting men and newspapers who criticized the action of the leaders or the order. If these leaders could have done so they would have stifled free discussion and freedom of the press. When newspapers continued to expose the fallacies of the demands or the rottenness or dishonesty of the leaders, and when speakers went out to tell the people the truth, these bosses advised the rank and file not to read the one or go to hear the other, and thousands of them bowed their heads to the yoke meekly and submitted. Having gotten things in this shape, Gideon's band was organized and the wild hunt for office began and every little boss in the order cropped out as a candidate for something. Too many of them came to suit the purposes of the leaders and now the work of thinning them out is going on. In this county a half dozen Gideons met in Anniston and decided who the alliance men should support for county office.
These jugglers determined to keep the result of their agreement secret, from the rank and file of the order and on the day of election circulate tickets for alliance men to vote with only the names of the favorites of the bosses upon it. How is this for bossism? What right has Quinn & Co., to take men down and put men up for the support of the free voters of Calhoun? Following this action the County Executive Committee was requested to take down some of the candidates among the organized Democrats. What did it do? It met and determined it had no right to bring one man down and leave another up, and yet that committee was composed of the constituted authorities of a great political party. The agents of the Democratic party in Calhoun would not dare to offer a ticket of their own making to the free voters of the county and say to them you must vote this or none; yet that is what Quinn & Co. have done. The Democracy only puts up candidates by convention of the people where every voter has the right to express a preference in the primaries. The Gideons, to the number of six, in Calhoun, present a ticket to the alliance men and say to them insolently "here is your ticket, vote it. True you have not been consulted but we, your bosses, know what is best for you."

Who is it that is bossed in Calhoun?
Monday will close the exciting political contest in this State. We sincerely trust it may be passed without riot and bloodshed, and that with the end of the contest will end all animosities engendered during the campaign. Good men will vote on both sides, and after the people have decided the issue it is the duty of these good men to bury the past and get speedily together. The canvass has developed some time-servers and cowards on both sides and here and there a traitor to one or both. These will be held in equal detestation by both sides; but the great rank and file of each side have boldly and openly stood by their convictions and fought an open fight. Where honest conviction has gone hand in hand with political action on either side, the opposite side can respect it, and we repeat there is no good reason why these brave and honorable men may not at once come together for the good of the State. Jones will win the fight. Let his friends indulge in no undue exultation over the men who have stood by Kolb from honest conviction. It is always becoming in the victor to be generous. It is well for the State that such should be the case in this instance.

Chairman Bowman's address to Kolb supporters throughout the State is to carry their ballots above their heads as they go to the polls so that they may be seen at all times until deposited.
This will be a pretty spectacle! Freemen carrying ballots aloft so that they may be effectually watched by five Kolb challengers, at the behest of one man in the State, will be an exhibition of subservency to boss rule such as has never before been seen in Alabama.

Public Speaking in Jacksonville.

Thursday Messrs. J. H. King, Jno.
B. Knox and T. G. Bush, of Anniston, filled the appointment made for them at this place, by the County Executive Committee.

A good audience of ladies and gentlemen greeted the speakers, and great enthusiasm prevailed throughout the meeting.

Mr. King opened the discussion with an admirable speech, in which he told the story of the Chicago Convention which nominated Cleveland.
He dwelt at length on the tariff robbery and presented unanswerable arguments against that iniquity. He closed by touching upon State issues and made a grand appeal for the farmers of the Black Belt who were to suffer from the revolutionary teachings of Bowman and Kolb. He was frequently applauded and made an excellent impression on his audience.

T. G. Bush followed in a speech of more than an hour's length, from the standpoint of a business man, who desired no office, but who had the welfare of the people of all occupations at heart. He reviewed the acts of Democratic lawmakers in the interest of the farmers and working men and showed beyond a shadow of doubt that the Democratic party was the only friend to the masses of the people. His spoke kindly and temperately throughout, and sometimes rose to eloquence by reason of his intense earnestness and evident honesty of statement. He was applauded throughout and his speech was pronounced to be one of the very finest that has been delivered here since the opening of the campaign.

Mr. John B. Knox closed the discussion in a speech replete with polished phrases, solid facts, and unanswerable arguments. His style of delivery is easy and captivating, and more than once when he indulged in apt quotation or gave way to an outburst of feeling or nailed the opposition by the statement of a damaging fact, there was spontaneous and heartily applause. His rendition of Longfellow's fine poem, beginning with

"Sail on thou ship of State" as appropos to one of Mr. King's fine figures of speech, was very effective, the manner of its delivery bringing out fully the beauty and majesty of the poem. When he answered the argument that the 13th plank of the Democratic platform meant disfranchisement to voters, by the statement that it took a change in the constitution to do this and that the Convention which nominated Jones had voted down a proposition to call a constitutional convention, the cleverness of the point was at once seen by the audience and answered by applause. And so it was in his discussion of Kolb's claims of he left him not one inch to stand upon. It was a strong and forcible speech and did much good.
The speakers were happily introduced by Mayor Arnold, and altogether it was a good day for Democracy in Jacksonville.

BOWMAN.

What his Home Paper Thinks of Him.

The Freeman, a People's party paper, published at Sumter, S. C., the place from whence Bowman came to Alabama, has this to say him:
"Sunder's old post, P. G. Bowman, Esq., is running the alliance campaign in Alabama. God have mercy upon any good cause entrusted to P.
G. Bowman's leadership! Reformers are often led by unworthy men, especially in their earliest stages, but when such men as Bowman get at the head of affairs horrible calamities are in full sight. We have our trials, our pains, our sorrows, and our miseries, but nothing quite so bad as Bowman has seized upon us yet, we believe."

Farmers of Calhoun are you prepared to follow this South Carolina "post" outside the Democratic party?
Even the third party people of South Carolina can pity Democrats under such a leadership. Do you think this carpet-bagger, with his incendiary talk and his rivers of blood is a safe guide? Leave him and his strife-breeding crowd alone.

Bank Bossism.

One of the speakers here Thursday stated that Rev. D. P. Williams, one of the Kolb leaders in this county when asked whether he would or would not attend the Jones speaking at Alexandria a day or two previous replied: "Yes, I will attend, but my people shall not." Who gave Mr. Williams authority to control the acts of free men in this free country? Yet, the Kolb crowd talk about bossism.

The champions of the People's party in Tennessee. Almost every one of their congressional lecturers will stamp their districts for the "new reform" aggregation. They are putting out candidates for the Legislature in thirty-two counties of the State, four candidates for Congress in the ten districts, who are already announced, and as soon as the lambs announce their willingness to be slaughtered others will be put out.
Robertson McDowell, the two State electors, will begin an active canvass next week.—Chattanooga Times.

State Lecturer Tucker says the Alliance in Tennessee has dwindled from 27,000 members to 6,000 since its first organization. He also says that McDowell will carry about 2,000 of these men to the People's party with him. Continuing, Mr. Tucker makes the estimate that there are about 2,000 discontented laborers in the cities, who will swell the total vote for the People's party to something like 5,000 votes. Mr. Tucker says he will have his right arm off before he will join the People's party.—Chattanooga Times.

TRAITOR TO DEMOCRACY.

W. P. Gorman's Opinion of Kolb after a Continued Association With Him.
BIRMINGHAM, July 16.—A big Jones rally was held at Belloune Academy Jonesville, last night.
In a speech Maj. W. P. Gorman said that he had possibly been nearer Kolb before the convention than either of his predecessors, and that he had found him a traitor to himself and to Democracy; and we, his supporters, though vilified by the press, jeered and hissed by small politicians and eminent statesmen for having followed him, then exercised the same rights as members of the party as our trainers did, and we now perform the same duties.
He said Elaine was defeated and Harrison nominated on the Force bill issue; that Harrison's nomination was due to the Southern States, and that Bowman, Kolb & Co. were in line with them. It is evident where the money comes from for their campaign.

What was Bowman's business in Washington? He went there to sell to the Republicans through Mr. Elkins. (Interrupted by Colonel Fulton, "do you know that to be a fact?" When Major Gorman attempted to reply he insinuated that Fulton was a Kolb man, and Fulton instantly corrected him, saying "I was for Jones when you were for Kolb." (Cheers.) And attorney Parsons said to me: "We sent the wrong man."

His arraignment of Mr. Bowman was severe and was heartily applauded.

Kolb told me that if the Republican Party should tender him the Governor's nomination in a silver platter he would not accept it, nor would he accept it from any other source than organized Democracy.
At this juncture he criticised the Kolb platform, especially on account of the omission of any reference to the Force bill. Captain Kolb or some of his friends rented the Opera House in Montgomery six weeks before the Convention. On my return with him from Lee County, he told me one night at 12 o'clock that he would go into the Convention and make the fight. On the next morning he gave me reason to believe that he was going to bolt, and then I left him. Kolb called a mass meeting of his supporters in Montgomery and Bowman called the Convention.

Next he discussed the Guice circular, and stated that Kolb when he read the circular in Tuscaloosa County, raised his right hand and said: "I swear by the high heavens it is a lie," and he explained to me that his partner did it. Now he says nothing about his partner. I told a falsehood to the people, and Captain Kolb swore a lie to me. He then recapitulated his personal and political reasons for not supporting Jones. Major Gorman was frequently applauded and his listeners were especially attentive.

IRRESISTIBLE ARGUMENT.

How Dr. Ayers Outwitted the Kolb Men at Sulphur Springs.

Dr. T. W. Ayers, of Jacksonville, certainly got the best of a crowd of Kolb men up in Sulphur Springs beat on Monday. He has been a most conservative man and has done nothing to offend them, consequently they were willing to hear. He began to read a platform, section by section, elucidating it thoroughly.
He would then appeal to the farmers and ask them if that plank was not good enough for them. "Yes, yes," they replied. He would then take up another plank, go through the same process, and get the same favorable response. The entire platform was gone through in this way, and then he held up the printed slip before them and asked them if they could not endorse it. "Yes, yes," they replied. "That's what we want," "That suits us," were the replies from the crowd.
"Well, then, I am glad indeed of it," said the adroit Doctor, "for I have read you every word of the Jones platform."

The good farmers were too badly outwitted for utterance. They thought all the while that the Kolb platform was being read to them.— Anniston Hot Blast.

The county alliance in electing its officers for the ensuing year, on last Tuesday, elected five third parties and six republicans. Not a single democrat was elected.

This incident shows which way the organization in this county is heading, and under its present lead it will soon get there.—Calera Journal.

The Etowah Whig and Observer says: The Kolb clan are picturing to the negroes the horrors that will come upon them if Jones is elected Governor. An intelligent negro replied that Jones had been Governor two years and he was better off than he ever had been.

Of the thirteen nominees as presented in the third party ticket in this county, ten have always been republicans and three independent democrats. The child favors its father.—Calera Journal.

Let every man who votes for Jones, vote also for Williams and Morris, the nominees of Democracy for Representative. Kolb is going to carry the fight to the Legislature and it is important to the party to have its own men there.

A BLACK BELT MINISTER CALLS ON THE WHITES.

Do Not Desert Your Brethren in the Black Counties.

To the Voters in the White Counties of Alabama:
I am not a politician nor do I expect to be. But I believe all good men owe it to their state to let their influence be felt.

If politics is the corrupt thing we all say it is, it is only because good men have stood aloof and let corrupt men control. I believe the time is upon us when men without prejudice or passion should let their influence be felt.

I venture, therefore, this appeal to the white voters of the white counties of Alabama in behalf of the people living in the Black Belt.
In the days of reconstruction I lived on my farm in the midst of a dense colored population. They were marched to the polls and voted without any will of their own, just as their leaders wished—they voted as they were told. While the white people furnished them homes to live in and became responsible for the supplies, they controlled the offices and made the laws. It was no uncommon thing to go to the field in the morning and find the plow stolen from the furrow where it had been left the night before. Cotton bales would be stolen from the yards where they had been placed for safety. Corn cribs and cotton and gin houses were constantly raided. A hog could not be raised. Lard then stolen from my yard.

Many families had their stock cattle so reduced that they had only one cow and some none at all. There was no remedy. Many ignorant negroes were members of the legislature. It was a law that a person had to steal $100 worth before he could be convicted and sent the penitentiary.

The magistrate in my beat was a corrupt negro, who was afterwards sent to Congress. A negro could not be convicted before him, no matter what the proof might be. Property was without value. There seemed to be open to the white people one of two desperate remedies—either to have a war of races, or to give up the country to the negroes. At this critical juncture our white brethren in the white counties came to our rescue.
The state became democratic. Laws were enacted to punish criminals.
The governor appointed notaries public, before whom criminals might be tried and convicted. We were existence, almost, in the black belt to our white brethren in more favored sections of the state. For years, under white rule, blacks and whites have lived peacefully together and both have prospered.

The negroes have no hope of ever getting in power without a division among the whites.

Unfortunately this division has come. Ambitious men, in their greed for office, now plead for the negro vote. There is no division among the negroes—depend upon it, they will vote solidly as they are told by their party leaders. The man, or set of men, who are put into office by their votes will reward them for it in some way. Every two years the negroes will decide for us who shall be our rulers. Gradually the galling yoke, from which you freed us in 1871, will be placed upon our necks again. It is in the meantime, the force bill should become a law United States soldiers, with their glistening bayonets, will guard every election precinct and this fair land will become, under negro rule, a wilderness.
You who live in your white counties cannot appreciate the situation here.
White men will rule you no matter what is in office. Not so here. If men are put in office here by negro votes the negro becomes a power in the land, and will practically rule.
There can be no chance for this if the white people will stand together. We outnumber the blacks by many thousands in all the state, but in a few counties here in the center of the state the negroes are largely in the majority. We desire the good of both races when we plead for good government. Under white rule the white state has prospered. The progress of the negro socially, morally and financially has been remarkable.
It has been accomplished under the white man's rule.

The issue with us, shall the white man or the negro rule in Alabama?
This is the only issue here. By examining the tax books it can readily be discovered what the black belt is worth to the state under white men's rule. Let the negroes come to the throne, let them say who shall rule Alabama, and very soon the state treasury will feel it. I appeal to the white voters of the white counties not to allow the cruel yoke to be placed upon our necks again. I am personally acquainted with many of you. Thousands of you are my own brethren in Christ to whom I have preached in your great religious gatherings. I have most earnestly prayed for divine guidance in writing this appeal. Some bitter partisan, who is now courting the negro for his vote, may denounce me for it, but I know, and the white people of the black belt know, every word I have said is awfully true.
Alabama is my home. It will be the home of my children after me, I trust. My love for my native state and my desire for the peace and prosperity of all her people is my only excuse for writing this appeal.
Respectfully yours,
W. B. CROOKER.

COLORFUL JONES CLUB.

Organized in Enfield, Kolb's Home.

Hot Blast.
A few days ago the colored voters of Barbour county issued a circular, signed by prominent colored men, all known to Hon. John M. Mc-Cleary, of this city, advancing many strong points why Kolb was unworthy of the confidence and support of the colored people. The port of the colored people was issued by following circular was issued by them and a few days afterward:

"The Democracy of Alabama is rent in twain, and each wing is bidding for the negro vote. Now is the time for us to demonstrate our intelligence for the franchise by an intellectual use of the power so unexpectedly placed in our hands; and every colored man should know which side to take and why. The purpose of this document is to place the matter squarely before them. The following are the points which are of the greatest importance to us:

1. We are asked to support Mr.
Kolb because it is said that he is a Republican. If Mr. Kolb be a Republican why did he seek the Democratic nomination? Why did he declare that he was a Democrat?
How can he ask for Democratic votes? How can he be an Alliance man, a pure Democrat, and a newly fledged Republican all at once?
Every thinking man knows that Mr.
Kolb is as much a democrat now as he was in 1874. Or at least he does not love the colored man now any more than he did a few years ago when he was a leader in intimidating and wronging our race. And again, the resolution adopted by the Kolb opera house convention says nobody but white Democrats shall participate in primary elections. We mention this to show the spirit that animated Mr. Kolb's followers.

2. It is said that Mr. Kolb and his party are the best friends of the black man. How is that? Mr.
Kolb boasted of what he did against the negro in 1874, and he blamed Gov. Jones, on the stump in Barbour county, for showing mercy to colored convicts. Does that show Mr. Kolb to be our friend? As for a certain secret organization among a part of the people which Mr. Kolb has been and is using to help him get office, we know, or believe at least, that one of its objects has been to hold down colored labor.

3. It is said that we ought to support Mr. Kolb because he split the Democratic party. Suppose he has too; and then he will take the two halves and try to make a Kolb party.
What good will that do the Republican party?

4. The Kolb party wants to abolish the National Banks. What good will that do us? The only thing the National banks have ever done to us was to lend us money, and if we do away with them where will we borrow? The Kolb party cannot lend us any. Before we strike down banking system let us have another and a better for the business of the country demands banks.

5. The Kolb men say that they will get money from the government and lend it to us cheaper than we get it now. They propose to raise this money on land as security.
Now if the government gets money to lend, it must raise it by taxing the people—ALL THE PEOPLE, us too. What good is there in that for us? The whites own the land; they are the ones who would get the government money. Do we want to help make laws that will tax us to raise money for other men, so that they can lend it back to us at any rate they see fit to charge? The government does not lend money to the National Banks and we know that it will not and cannot legally lend money to the farmer.

6. If the Kolb party is such a friend to the laboring man, why does it not out down rents? Land owners charge about two dollars rent for each acre of land, whose cash value is about eight dollars; that is twenty-five per cent. More than the banks charge, and the banks run a greater risk.
The land owner risks only the income from the land; the banks risk principal and interest.

7. The Kolb party has declared for a free ballot and a fair count, and say that they want every man to have his rights. This sounds well, but even now there are places in the State where a colored man who is for Jones would not dare to open his lips; while Kolb men are working and talking everywhere and Jones men do not molest them. This shows that it is the Jones men who are in favor of permitting every man to exercise his rights.

8. Gov. Jones has given us a clean, able, fair administration; he has tempered the justice of the courts with executive clemency; he has protected colored men against mob violence; and he has never been implicated in negro killing and ballot box stuffing. For these reasons, as there is no Republican candidate in the field, we ought to support Mr.
Jones.

9. The colored people are now passing through the hardest times which they have experienced since the war; but the hard times are nothing to what they will be if the Kolb party wins and drives capital out of the State. We cannot afford to fight money.

10. If we have any friends among the whites they are of that class who are supporting Gov. Jones. We should support the men who are least likely to do us harm and most able to do us good.

Finally, we are told by the Jones leaders in Barbour county in as strong terms as the Kolb party ex-

If not stronger, that they are opposed to intimidation and mob violence, and in favor of a free ballot and free count, now and for all time.

Democrats at Weaver's Station.

Ed. HOT BLAST.—Monday evening, by accident, we had the pleasure to hear the political issues of the day discussed at Weaver's. Messrs.
Grant, Brothers, Hammond and Mc-Leod were the speakers. At about a o'clock a large crowd assembled in a vacant store house, most of whom were Jones men. There were about fifteen ladies present, all of whom were for Jones, a few Kolb men and about fifty negroes. Hon. L. W.
Grant was the first speaker. He was introduced by Mr. D. F. Weaver.
Mr. Grant spoke for about one hour, and for good sound logic, clear, convincing argument, his speech was one of the best we have had the pleasure to hear in many a day. Len Grant is the peer of any man in Alabama in discussing the political questions now confronting the people of this State. While he is discussion-ate, always cool, yet he boldly comes to the front and bravely, earnestly and eloquently tells the people the importance of standing shoulder to shoulder and supporting the true organized Democratic party—headed by Thos. G. Jones.

Mr. Brothers is an able speaker and did good by his fine argument on this occasion.

Mr. Hammond is a systematic speaker. He holds the attention of his crowd, and the those attention given him showed that his speech was appreciated. Mr. Hammond convinced his hearers that he was "well up" on the political issues, and his speech was full of much valuable information. We could but wish that the prejudice of the people could be overcome, that Mr. Hammond could be heard by all the people in every beat in Calhoun county. He closed by urging the people to support Jones for governor and Williams and Morris for representatives.

Mr. McLeod was the last speaker, and he began by saying every plank had been discussed by the gentlemen who had preceded him and left him but little to say. But Mr. Weaver, in introducing him, said that Mr.
McLeod had followed the plow ten years of his life. This gave the speaker a good send off, and he talked to the farmers "as one of the boys." His speech was practical, and what we would term a vote-making speech. Mr. McLeod is known to be an eloquent, able speaker, but on this occasion his speech meant business, and his argument was so plain that the most illiterate could understand and appreciate what he had to say.
This was one time the colored people seemed to appreciate good sound democratic doctrine. Beat 3 is all I
